SAVINGS

Our seamless integration delivers a substantial cost and time savings by eliminating the need for duplicate entry while keeping pertinent data at your fingertips. Not only is managing requisitions easier, you can compound this with the savings associated with improved process efficiency and realize a dramatic drop in the cost-per-purchase order. The average drop when using e-procurement is from $114 per purchase order to just $31.50.

Imagine these savings as your company grows. Our customers boast eRequester effortlessly scaled with their business and so did the time savings, which translated to saving the equivalent of 2-6 full time salaried positions. This frees up valuable resources that can now be applied to other critical areas of your organization.

That's efficiency in action!
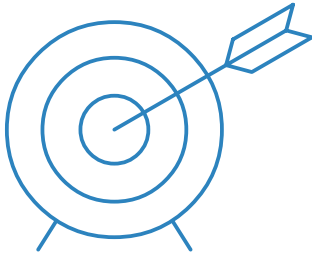

STREAMLINED REQ-TO-PO

We've found that both day-to-day users and administrators prefer eRequester. Why? eRequester has logic-based intelligence built into every step of the requisition process saving you time and simplifying the process.

The automation assistance can take the form of prefilled accounting data, flexible approval workflows that mirror your organization with custom routing rules and unlimited user levels, proxy approvers for out of office staff, budget data, change order capabilities. The the list goes on.

It boils down to a streamlined process that saves time as the requisition makes the journey from initial request to an automated PO being sent to vendors, and through AP workflow automation.

Every step of the core requisition process has been optimized to save your staff time.

"eRequester effortlessly scaled with their business and so did the time savings, which translated to saving the equivalent of 2-6 full time positions."
TAILORED SOFTWARE

eRequester was designed to provide companies with a flexible and tailored spend management experience. We worked with many organizations to develop eRequester's overall functionality and usability to meet the needs of administrators, finance users, IT professionals, and end users alike.

Administrators and accountants enjoy a highly configurable system that can be leveraged to boost automation and controls at the same time. Users can enjoy a system with unparalleled ease-of-use and practical features to make entry faster than ever.

As a platform, eRequester, delivers a software suite that can be extended to add additional features and functionality by design. Add-on modules allow you to tailor their systems over time to increase and streamline processes down the road based on need.

GO BEYOND SPEND

eRequester's Approval Workflow Engine can go far beyond purchasing. For instance, our customers also route documents for approval, or use eRequester Forms for interdepartmental equipment or service requests. Your entire organization can benefit from the efficiency improvements, by using the same process used in purchasing to route requests for virtually anything outside of spend.

Imagine creating forms for common requests like vacation scheduling, new hire IT services, sales presentations, and proposal reviews. Each request will be able to take advantage of the collaborative approval process with notes and attachments. You can also add notification only alerts as well.

The possibilities to streamline non-spend related tasks are near limitless.

"A highly configurable system that can be leveraged to boost automation and controls at the same time. "
